BRACE YOURSELF FOR LIGHTSPEED ARCADE MULTIPLAYER MAYHEM IN LASER LEAGUE

505 Games and Roll7 Team Up to Redefine the Arcade Genre with Fast-Paced, Exhilarating Online Competition for Everyone

CALABASAS, Calif. – June 9, 2017 – 505 Games announced today a partnership with BAFTA-winning indie dev magicians Roll7 on Laser League, a fast, fun, multiplayer arcade-style action game. Known for the award-winning OlliOlli series and NOT A HERO, Roll7 bring their trademark addictive gameplay to an original vision of near-future competition. With up to 4 v. 4 intense online or local multiplayer mode with friends, Laser League's frenetic yet intuitive matches are easy to play but difficult to master, in a throwback to the heyday of gaming's more approachable arcade action. "We have admired and enjoyed Roll7's work from afar ever since the first OlliOlli game," said Tim Woodley, senior vice president of brand and marketing, 505 Games. "When we saw the first prototype for Laser League, we could already feel that all-too-rare 'just one more go' impulse. We jumped at the chance to help Roll7 take their proven studio to the next level and realize their ambitions for Laser League."

In Laser League, the exhilarating, high-octane contact sport of 2150, players battle against the opposition for control of nodes that bathe the arena in deadly light. Evading rival colored beams, teams attempt to fry their opponents with speed, strength and strategy. Special offensive and defensive abilities, as well as game-changing power-ups on the arena floor, provide an edge at the crucial moment. Like all great sports, it is accessible and immediately understandable, but rewards dedication with deceptively complex strategic possibilities.

"It's awesome to step outside of our 'house style' to develop a far bigger 3D experience that we think will redefine a genre," said Simon Bennett, director at Roll7. "The (much bigger) team here at Roll7 are hyped to get Laser League into people's hands as soon as possible, then work with the community to fine-tune the experience before launch."

Laser League will be part of the Early Access program on Steam beginning this summer, followed by a launch on PC, PlayStation 4 and Xbox One in 2018.

The game will be available in English, French, Italian, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Japanese, Chinese and Korean at launch.
