

MADE IN ITALY VIDEOGAMES: DIGITAL BROS AND KUNOS SIMULAZIONI

ANNOUNCE “ASSETTO CORSA COMPETIZIONE”

The Official Game of the Blancpain GT Series in Development Full Speed Ahead

MILAN, 21 February 2018 - Digital Bros S.p.A., a digital entertainment company listed on the Star segment of the Milan Stock Exchange, and its subsidiary 505 Games announce today the launch of Assetto Corsa Competizione: the new official game of the Blancpain GT series, an official gran touring racing series organized by Swiss manufacturer Blancpain and SRO Motorsports Group, is under development by Kunos Simulazioni, a talented Italian team - headquartered in Rome - recently acquired by Digital Bros.

Featuring an extraordinary level of simulation quality, this new episode of Assetto Corsa dedicated to Blancpain competition allows players to experience a more realistic atmosphere, reproducing all the racing elements with an outstanding level of details.

The partnership with Blancpain competition will affect the launch strategy allowing to release the game, before 2019 season, onto Steam Early Access this summer. This will allow players to test features and content in advance taking part into the development process.

“We love this game, we are proud of the development team and we believe in the brand and its long-term potential. The partnership with Blancpain is a relevant part of this brand strategy. Despite the fact the Italian development market is not outstanding, the passion for racing filled the gap and lead to release an exceptional game that sold 2.5 million of copies and generated €25 million of revenues in four years from its launch” said Raffaele Galante, CEO of Digital Bros Group.

Assetto Corsa Competizione will be available on Steam Early Access this summer. For further details please visit the official Assetto Corsa website <http://assettocorsa.net/>
